Note: Bullying is a complex issue, with many individual needs. If you are being bullied, or know someone is—please seek help. The above resources are not ministry minded, but some have good starting points for how to get help, and who you need to talk to about your circumstances.

Please also note—that in a bullying situation, you are being torn down. Please see other pages in this site for ways to get built up. Please seek hope, healing. You are worth so much more than mean spirited slander and actions.
